Highway Patrol pleads for death-free holiday

Some people reading this article will not live through the month of December. Others will bring in the New Year wearing casts, minus limbs, or in rehabilitation centers adjusting to wheelchair confinement.

Possibly worst of all will be those who must face manslaughter or murder charges because they were responsible for killing another person.

These conditions will not exist because of a drunken brawl in a nightclub or an argument between friends. They will exist because there are more than 1.5 million automobiles registered in Mississippi, any one of which could become a lethal weapon at any time.

During the month of celebration, gift giving, and rejoicing the birth of Jesus Christ, 70 people were killed on Mississippi streets and highways last year.

This total was the highest for any month recorded in 1977 by the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

Nine of the deaths were pedestrians. Four of the 70 deaths resulted in instant murder or manslaughter charges. Grand Juries later returned murder or manslaughter indictments against some of the drivers after investigations revealed they had been criminally negligent behind the wheel.

Seeing the aftermath of a fatal automobile crash is gruesome, bloody and sickening. In most cases it is not a painless way to die see a loved one die and yet sometimes death would be easier for the victim and his family. Highway death does not respect the rich or the powerful. It does not know

M. C. Pardue, Chief of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol reports the members of his department will be out on the highways in full strength this weekend until midnight on Monday.

He said that MHSP officers will be paying special attention to the drinking drivers, those driving at excessive speeds, those breaking the law by failing to yield the right of way, improper passing, improper equipment, and other accidents causing violations.

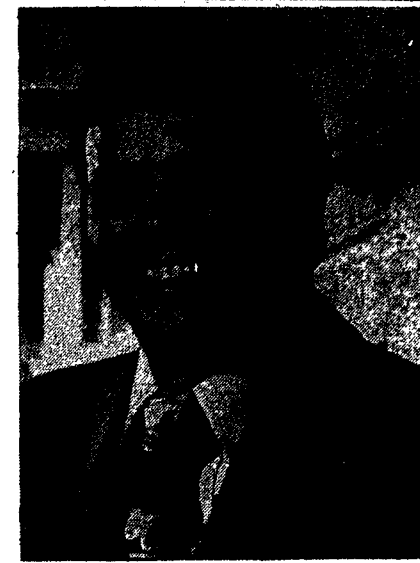

Pardue said that days off for all MHSP officers have been cancelled through New Year's day in an effort to have every available man on the highways.

He said that during the 78-hour New Year's observance last year, there was only one death on highways under the jurisdiction of the Patrol, and that with the cooperation of all motorists, this holiday period could be fatality-free.

the difference in race, sex, or natural origin. It took 690 lives last year and 676 thus far in 1978.

James Finch, commissioner of public safety, says, "The person fortunate enough not to be exposed to how fragile a human body is when entangled with 4,000 pounds of steel, should feel blessed."

News Briefs

NEW YEAR'S GARBAGE SCHEDULES

Both Bay St. Louis and Waveland City Halls will be closed in observance of New Year's Day Monday and will reopen Tuesday in Bay St. Louis at 8 a.m. and in Waveland at 9 a.m. No garbage will be collected on Monday in either city, City Hall spokesmen report. Garbage pick-ups regularly scheduled for Monday in both cities will be collected Tuesday. Tuesday routes will be collected Wednesday. Collection schedules for the rest of the week remain the same.

Compretta seeks ad valorem cuts

By RICH ADAMS

State Representative J. P. Compretta has co-authored a bill which seeks a reduction in millage for ad valorem homestead taxes, to be introduced in the House of Representatives during the upcoming Legislative Session which opens Jan. 2.

The proposed bill would distribute 20 percent of state sales taxes back into counties on a per-capita basis, providing the county reduces its ad valorem homestead taxes in an amount equal to the sales tax rebate predicted for the following year.

According to Compretta, the budget and accounting commission has predicted state revenue for fiscal year 1980 will be $998.1 million, excluding federal funds.

He said last year's budget including federal funding was $2.1 billion.

The budget commission has predicted a $108 million surplus in state revenue for the coming year.

He said $45 million has been set back for a reserve working balance for the

Waveland's outlook

Mayor says no tax increase in 1979

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

"There will be no need to raise taxes in 1979," says Waveland Mayor John Longo Jr.

"Things look great for Waveland in 1979," exclaims the mayor.

Total renovation of Middletown, the hopeful lowering of fire insurance rates, purchase of public equipment, construction of an animal shelter and construction of a sidewalk along the Waveland Elementary School are among the mayor's plans for 1979.

Construction of the sidewalk along the Waveland Elementary School will be the first priority of the new year, said Longo.

Easements for the sidewalk have already been obtained since Dec. 20, said the mayor.

Renovation and rehabilitation of public and private homes, streets and neighborhoods in Middletown will begin in 1979 funded by a $1 million grant from Housing and Urban Development in 1979, gleefully announced Longo.

"It's a wonderful thing," exuberated the mayor.

Purchase of a new garbage truck and a new police car have been budgeted in 1979 also said Longo.

"Construction of the animal shelter should begin sometime after Jan. 1, 1979 and be completed in the late spring or early summer," stated Longo.

The shelter will provide food and other services for stray animals.

Upgrading the Waveland fire

protection system by providing more equipment for the system and installing more fire hydrants in the area, the fire insurance rates should drop 30 to 40 percent, said Longo.

Another method to lower fire insurance rates, said Longo, will be to provide fire protection to more areas outside Waveland.

"The overall outlook in Waveland is bright," maintained Longo, "finances are good, growth is good and the budget is balanced."

Bay Council turns down tax exemption

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis Council was unanimous in rejecting a request for school tax exemption made by Bay Technical Associates, an engineering firm in a recess meeting Thursday.

Burk and Associates, former engineers for the City, were scheduled to meet with the Council, but no member of the Burk firm appeared before the governing body.

In other business the Council set two hearings for citizens input into the Small Cities Program for Bay St. Louis. The first is scheduled for Jan. 18 at 7 p.m. and the second Jan. 22 at 5 p.m.

In Hancock's New Year:

Industry, youth bringing County to full potential

By ELLIS CUEVAS

"Hancock County is beginning to arrive at its potential because of the hard work and individual attitudes of the people who have their roots here and the attitudes of newcomers who are interested in Hancock's future," stated Edward (Eddie) Murtagh, assessor-tax collector, in looking ahead to the coming year.

"I think Hancock County shows a very promising year in 1979. I am predicting this on the general county-wide conditions which started in 1978. A total of nine subdivisions alone were filed this year," Murtagh added.

The assessor-tax collector put emphasis on how the new subdivisions improved the County. "The type of construction going on in Hancock will enhance the county because the cost of many of the homes is $50,000 and more in range," he said.

Murtagh commented this way about Diamondhead: "I like to draw particular attention to the property owners of Diamondhead who have moved into our community. They have already actively participated in community affairs, thereby lending their time and talents to help our County become even bigger and better."

"The growth in Hancock County is on a county-wide basis, not really restricted to any one particular area. The test site, munitions plant, and the close proximity of DuPont should open up attractive employment for our young people, allowing them an opportunity to stay at home and not have to leave in order to make a living as so many have had to do in the past," Murtagh continued.

Murtagh, in showing a continued concern for Hancock's youth, commented, "We have some very fine schools turning out some excellent students and we feel the attractiveness of the growing local industries will enable us to become the beneficiaries of their knowledge."

"The growth of Hancock County will be told by the continued increases in assessments of real and personal property and also public utilities in 1979, the assessor-tax collector said."

In closing, Murtagh said his office door is "always open" and he and his staff are always ready to answer any questions on any problems the residents of Hancock County may encounter.

Rutherford praises harmony among Hancock's leadership

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock County Chancery Clerk J.D. (Big John) Rutherford Jr. is impressed with Hancock County's tremendous growth during the past seven years.

"We made tremendous gains on valuations in Hancock County during the past seven years, from $25 million to $46 million," Rutherford said.

"This increase was not because of any millage increase, our growth has caused this increase in valuation, and the increased valuation has kept up with the inflation," the Chancery Clerk said.

"Hancock was very fortunate to receive some revenue sharing which has helped in building roads, remodeling the Courthouse, new court rooms, doubling the size of the Health Center and the Youth Court building," Rutherford continued.

"I am the auditor and clerk for the Board of Supervisors, Youth Court, Chancery Court auditor and recorder, my office works in conjunction with many other operations of the County," the clerk commented.

"The future is bright, we are going to have some big breaks at Port Blenlye offering more jobs and better paying ones. Alcan will open this year, the new munitions plant will have heavy construction. Diamondhead has many homes under construction as well as homes under construction throughout the county," intoned the Chancery Clerk.

Rutherford is impressed with the "Peace and harmony" between the elected officials and the citizens, as he says, "It is better than ever."

The low unemployment in the County is important, Rutherford said, noting, "Unemployment in Hancock County is the lowest in many years as 1978 closes and the rate should continue down with the prosperous year of 1979 for Hancock," Rutherford said.

"We should have our biggest growth in 1979, with the building going on all over and the industries here and the new ones coming," Rutherford commented.

"The office of the Chancery Clerk is to serve the people of Hancock County, if any resident has any problems we are happy to offer help," Rutherford said in closing.

Supervisor predicts 1979 job abundance

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

Hancock County Board of Supervisors President Alton (Dolph) Kellar applauds present "good communications" among county and city governments as well as an anticipated 1979 availability of jobs in Hancock County.

"Employment in Hancock County should be the best ever in 1979," predicts Kellar.

"Borg-Warner should be exercising its option in the county which will provide more jobs," said the board president.

"We'll have the Ammunition Plant at NSTL plus Dupont," he continued.

The Ammunition Plant at NSTL has been described as "The most modern, complete and advanced ammunition plant in the world" by Mississippi Senator John Stennis.

"There will be jobs for anybody who wants to work— if they want to work," emphasized Kellar.

Communication between the municipalities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland had been terrible in the past, said the supervisor.

In 1979, as in 1978, the supervisor said he anticipates the supportive communication that exists between the supervisors and the cities, and city with city to continue.

"The municipalities have better communication between themselves than they have ever had in history," Kellar affirmed.

"This harmonious relationship between the municipalities makes elimination of problems easier," he added.

The supervisor also plans improvement of numerous roads in the county, funded by State Aid and Revenue Sharing monies.

ALTON (DOLPH) KELLAR

The supervisor also pointed out that construction in the county is "tremendous."

"1979 looks real good," remarked Kellar, "real good."

Wastewaters 'muddied' during 208 conference

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

Hancock County officials remained puzzled about actual cost and alternatives to the Gulf Coast Area-wide Wastewater Management Plan after a discussion with the project's staff engineers Wednesday night.

The local officials met at the Hancock County Courthouse with staff engineers Caleb Dana and David Lewis of Jackson who also work for the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission.

Discussion centered on compliance with the Clean Water Act of 1977 which requires sewerage treatment facilities be built by 1983 to dispose of wastewaters along the Gulf Coast in order to meet federal water quality

The 1977 Clean Water Act originated with the Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972.

"Since establishment of the 1977 Act, the Environmental Protection Agency has issued a mandate for clean water along the Gulf Coast by 1983."

The Area-wide Plan is based in Sections 201 and 208 of the 1977 Act.

The Coast-wide wastewater management plan calls for effluent to be handled at five treatment plants and disposed of at three upland sites within the Counties of Hancock, Harrison and Jackson.

Ladner, Phillips exchange vows

Miss Jan Marie Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Ladner Sr. of Dedeaux, became the bride of Earl Phillips Jr., son of Mrs. Doris Phillips of Gulfport, and the late Mr. Phillips, in an afternoon ceremony on Dec. 16 at the home of the bride's parents.

Justice Court Judge Vernon Ladner performed the double ring rites. Charlie Freeman, pianist and soloist, provided nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal empire style gown fashioned of accordin pleated jersey. The Queen Anne neckline and long tapered sleeves were embroidered with venise lace.

Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. She carried a nosegay of white minuet roses, carnations and baby's breath with ribbon streamers.

Judy Helms of Gulfport attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a fully length burgundy gown and carried a nosegay of burgundy and pink roses.

Herman F. Ladner, Jr., brother of the bride, attended the groom, as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony, where the bride's table, overlaid with a white imported embroidered cloth, held a three tiered wedding cake decorated with white sugar spun roses and pale pink flowers.

A silk bouquet of pink and white rosebuds interspersed with baby's breath topped the cake. Arrangements of pink carnations, white daisies and baby's breath flanked the table.

Similar floral designs were used throughout the home.

Receiving guests were the mothers of the bride and groom and grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Johnson Shaw.

On return from a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will reside on Robinson Road in Gulfport.

Prior to the wedding, the bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower at Tally Arms Condominium Club House on Dec. 1. Hostesses were Judy Helms and Cathy Parker.

Sacred Heart Brothers from three states gather at St. Stanislaus

Participating in a tri-annual gathering of the Provincial Chapter of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart of the New Orleans Province, 28 delegates met in official session from Dec. 26 to 29 at Bay St. Louis.

St. Stanislaus College, the historic setting for this assembly, had long years before - in 1900 - also served as the site for the first Provincial Chapter held by the brothers in the United States.

Purpose of the meeting was to consider issues relative to the religious and apostolic life of the brothers.

Brother Lee Barker, provincial, served as president of the Chapter sessions.

Delegates included, from the New Orleans area:

Brothers Bernard Couvillon, Celestine Algero, Donnan Berry, Farrel Lorio, Francis Davis, Gaspar Rodrigue, Ivy LeBlanc, Jean Sobert, Neal Golden, Paul Montero, Pierre St. Pierre, Ray Houck, and Virgil Harris.

Those from Bay St. Louis were Brothers Eldon Crifasi, Joseph Donovan, Louis Joseph Richard, Mark Thornton, Martin Hernandez, and Paul Mulligan.

From Houma, La.: Brothers Ray Hebert and Xavier Werneth.

From Baton Rouge, La.: Brother Adrian Gaudin and Brother Felician Fourrier.

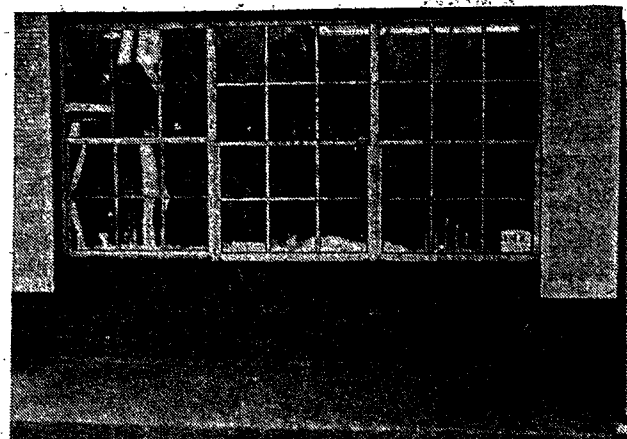

From Mobile, Ala.: Brother Matthias Amos.

The Brothers of the Sacred Heart administer St. Stanislaus in Bay St. Louis, Miss.; Catholic High School in Baton Rouge, La.; Brother Martin High School in New Orleans, La.; E. D. White High School in Thibodaux, La.; and Vandebilt Catholic High School in Houma, La.

The Brothers also serve on the faculty of McGill Institute in Mobile, Ala.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

The City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, is requesting any engineering firm, interested in preparing all needed surveys and applications for the City's Farmer Home Administration, to meet with the City Council on January 9, 1979 at 7:00 P.M. at the Bay St. Louis City Hall.

The project includes adequate sewer and water facilities in the city and also improvement of drainage facilities and street repairs.

A pre-application of $10 million has been submitted to FmHA and a detailed engineering survey of the project is now needed before final approval can be obtained.

Each engineering firm represented should be prepared to give a resume of their qualifications and previous experience in the above mentioned areas.

Seeks answers to 'mystery'

Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

I wish to commend The Sea Coast Echo for having the courage to publish the pictures in a recent Sunday edition showing food being carried out of the cafeteria of Bay Junior High School.

The caption states that top city and school officials reported no knowledge of non-school personnel being served lunches.

Who are these "Top City and School Officials?" I can see that the Mayor can not know where all city employees eat their lunches, but shouldn't city department heads know where the city trucks are at all times?

Who are the top officials in the school system - the Superintendent, members of the school board, the Principal, or the cafeteria supervisor?

If they don't know, who does? It seems we have a crying need for school officials who do know what is going on in our schools.

It sounds as if the feeding of city employees and others from the cafeteria is the idea of employees of Bay Junior High cafeteria.

I do not believe this to be the case. How many thousands of taxpayers' dollars have disappeared through the back door of the cafeteria?

The taxpaying citizens of Bay St. Louis and Waveland have the right to expect the school system to conduct a thorough investigation of this matter.

Questions to be answered include:
a. Is this a practice confined to Bay Junior High, or are other cafeterias affected?

b. Who in authority authorized this practice, or condoned it by remaining silent?

c. Who were ALL of the recipients of these tax subsidised meals?

d. Was this practice a misappropriation of federal or state public funds?

e. What is being done to correct this situation and punish those at fault?

I believe citizens of the Bay-Waveland Municipal School District are entitled to answers to these questions.

Block Canal Treaty funds?

Panama Treaties

Dear Governor:

It would be appreciated if you would discuss the role the House of Representatives plays in connection with funding of the Panama Canal treaties.

It is my sincere belief that these treaties will not serve the best interest of either Panama or the United States.

I am informed a vote will be taken in early January, and it is hoped that no funds will be appropriated to implement these treaties.

In your opinion, will protests directed to Congressman Trent Lott or others vested with authority be of value to assist them in voting the wishes of the people whom they represent?

Thank you,

Dec. 13, 1978

Dear Friends,

The Humane Society of the United States is pleased to make you aware that the American Broadcasting Company (ABC) will present a segment on its magazine show, "20/20", concerning the plight of wild horses.

The show, which will be shown nationwide, will air on Monday, Jan. 8. Please check your local listings for the hour it will be presented in your area. Filmed in several states, the program will illustrate the multitude of problems and abuses that are currently facing wild horses in this country.

Included in the program will be an in-depth investigative report on the government's adopt-a-horse program, and the various ways that unscrupulous adopters are illegally routing the animals into slaughtering plants.

I believe that you will be shocked to discover the incredible abuses that are currently being inflicted upon wild horses in spite of a federal law that was designed to protect them.

We encourage you to write your representatives in Congress protesting the government's mismanagement of these animals.

In addition, we suggest that a letter expressing your opinion of the show be sent to the American Broadcasting Company.

Because of the short time available and the expense involved, it has not been possible to alert our general membership about the program.

Therefore, if you have an opportunity to communicate with your members about the show, it would be appreciated.

Sincerely,
John A. Hoyt

Bay mayor optimistic on $10 million funds

By ELLIS CUEVAS

"There are really five things which I hope can be accomplished by the City of Bay St. Louis during 1979," stated Mayor Larry Bennett Friday.

The primary thing the mayor is looking forward to is the comprehensive installation of water, sewerage, street repair and drainage throughout all of Bay St. Louis.

Mayor Bennett said, "The Farmers Home Administration (FHA) Loan we are seeking for the comprehensive work looks promising and if we get it, it would be about $5 million and would only carry a three percent interest with up to 40 years to repay."

"The additional revenues from the project would more than pay for the loan. It would probably take a total of about $10 million for the whole project, but we are looking to other agencies to come up with other monies such as the Environmental Development Agency (EDA), Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Agency and others."

The next item the Mayor would like to see accomplished is the upgrading of Main Street in the first block.

"I would like to see Bay St. Louis widen the first block of Main, it wouldn't take too much to make the street wider and re-do the sidewalks," Bennett commented.

"The next item would be the improving of many of the streets which need repairs badly," added the Mayor.

Then the Mayor spoke of building a second fire station in the city with truck and equipment needed for the operation.

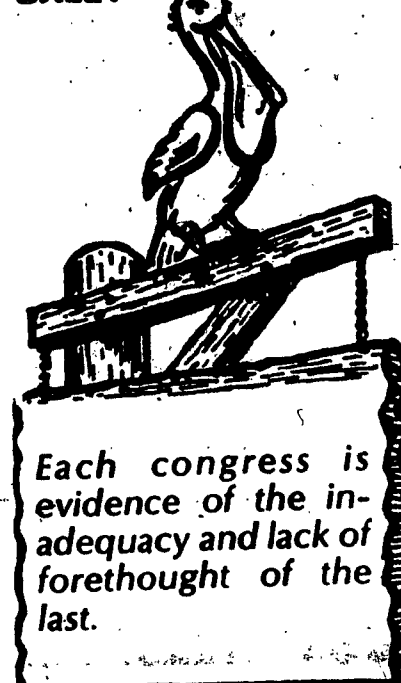

"Our fire insurance premiums would be reduced, giving a savings to our residents," he said.

In talking about the future of the Bay, Mayor Bennett reported, "Things are looking favorable for us. We still have the law suit in courts, but that was something we inherited. The Bay can look for substantial growth in 1979 in both industry and new construction."

The Mayor had this to say relative to the type of government in Bay St. Louis for the past 16 months. "The Council and I do not always agree, but they are a very good group of men. One of our big problems is the fact that we are all new and for sure we don't want to make any mistakes. We have the same goal and that is helping develop a better Bay St. Louis."

In closing Mayor Bennett, commented, "I welcome input from the citizens of Bay St. Louis on any and all issues. I would like to remind them that I work for each and all of them."

Webre says:

Strong economic base supports county growth

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

Hancock County's slowly developed, firm economic foundation has paved the way for industrial growth and a balanced economy for the county in 1979, says Port and Harbor Commission Director Wilson Webre.

Webre became president of the commission in October, 1973, and since then the Commission has decreased operation expenses from six mills to four mills.

"The Port and Harbor Commission's assets now total $10 million with a market value well in excess of $15 million," said the commission director. Also since the director's term began, the indebtedness of the commission has been decreased by $1.5 million.

"In my personal opinion," said Webre, "I think Hancock County is in good shape financially."

"Just at the Port Bienville Industrial complex alone, I foresee the present 150 employment figure doubling every two years."

The industrial park is comprised of 2,400 acres bordering the East Pearl River near the Mississippi Sound, which is described by Webre as, "the most strategic location in the county, due to its proximity to navigable water similarly to the way a city does by providing water, sewerage, security and other services to its 'customers.'"

But, he said, the commission is different because "...unlike political entities, we get the county out of debt, not into debt; thus providing a better balanced economy."

Industry of any kind creates a chain reaction of growth in the community, said Webre.

"As an example," he said, "If 100 workers came into the community, a growth of 351 people would occur due to their families."

"Of the 351," he continued, "you'll probably have 79 in school, a possible 97 families, one in retail establishment, 68

Resident input sought for Small Cities plan

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

Information from Bay St. Louis residents will be gathered at public hearings tentatively scheduled for Jan. 17 and 24 to define priorities in city services to be federally funded.

Ronnie Murray, federal program coordinator for Hancock County and Bay St. Louis through the Gulf Regional Planning Commission, said input obtained at the public hearings will determine to which projects a potential $4.5 million in federal grants will be allocated.

However, Murray feels procurement of only $500,000 or less is likely out of the potential $4,500,000 in grants.

Four Bay residents revealed a lack of proper sewer and water facilities on State, Easterbrook, and St. John Streets at a Dec. 19 hearing, Murray noted.

Murray says federal grant money which the city may receive is made available by the Small Cities Program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

"The Small Cities Program is part of an overall community development program instituted by the federal government," says Murray.

The preliminary application for the grant money must be filed by Jan. 29. The grants are divided into three categories:

—Single purpose grant allocates a maximum of $500,000. These funds can be used to create better housing facilities, public facilities, or street and sewerage improvements.

—Single-year comprehensive grant allocates a maximum of $1 million. Funds may be used for overall rehabilitation of a neighborhood. The task must be accomplished in one year.

—Multi-year comprehensive grant allocates a maximum of $3 million for overall rehabilitation of an area. The project must be accomplished in three years and money will be funded yearly if the grant is awarded.

"I think we'll apply for single purpose, I think we have a better chance with that one," says Murray.

The Bay St. Louis Council will use information obtained at the public hearings as an aid in establishing priorities and deciding for which projects to seek grant money.

The Small Cities Program is designed to assist economically and physically distressed areas.

ways, rail systems and US-90, in addition to being remote from any residential area."

The 1978 contributions of the industrial park must not go unmentioned, because they are "quite substantial," said Webre.

"In 1978," he continued, "we gained five additional industries in Hancock County."

—Bergerson Industries of Louisiana, maker of steel barges."

—The Easterly Yacht division of Halter Marine of Louisiana, makers of yachts and LaFite skiffs."

—The Atlas Powder Co., headquartered in Miami and Huston, makers of explosives for exportation to South American Countries."

—Starr Export Services, which manages and handles the cargo of the Atlas Co."

—And Engineered Steel of Louisiana which handles various operations associated with drilling and operations."

Webre said the commission operates people in non-manufacturing, 21 in wholesale and retail, 17 in professional services, 11 in transportation, communications and utilities, six in finance, insurance and real estate, five in business and personal services, five in agriculture and three in construction."

He added that economic growth also means the sale of more groceries, vehicles, clothing and consumer goods in the county.

"In my own estimation," Webre said, "Hancock County is in good shape, because I think the county has honest public officials who are doing a splendid job with the public monies entrusted to them."

Furthermore, Webre said he expects arrival of Borg-Warner into Hancock County in 1979.

He said he expects Borg-Warner to employ about 250 people.

Borg-Warner produces an ASB by-product used as the base of various plastic products.

Grandma's remedy

Health tips from

American Medical Association
Colds and other upper respiratory tract illnesses probably cause more discomfort and time lost from work or school than any other American health problem.

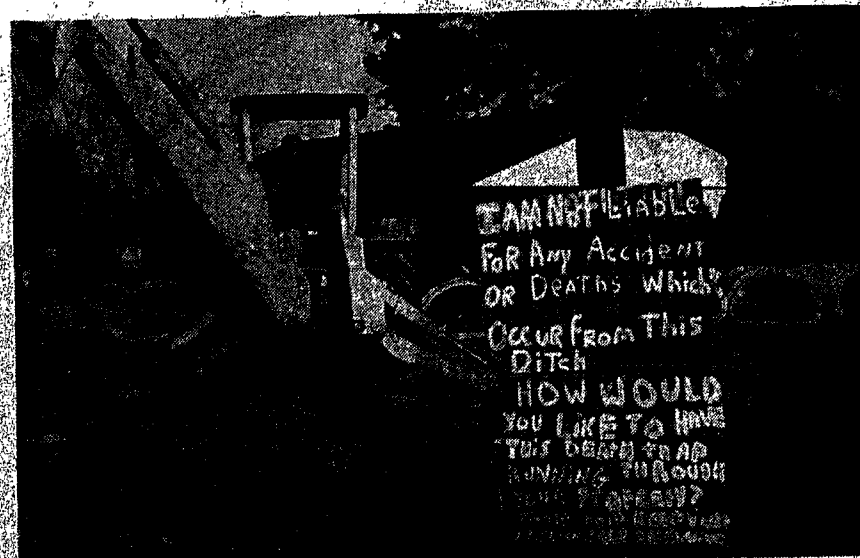

A cold is caused by one or more of many viruses, the American Medical Association reminds.

"Actually, grandma's remedy is still good. If you get a cold, stay home in bed. Keep warm. Gargle with warm salt water to ease a sore throat. Take a mild pain reliever for the discomfort.

None of this will cure the cold, but it will make you feel somewhat more comfortable while your body's natural defense mechanisms are building up enough steam to overcome the virus.

In some circles in recent years, massive doses of Vitamin C have been advanced as therapy or preventive for the cold.

Most of us have a cold or two during the course of the winter. Usually we try to keep going to the office, but sometimes we feel too bad to work, and spend a day or two at home.

Property owners had posted sign which speaks for itself. The culverts in background are to be placed in the drainage ditch in a joint operation by the City of Bay St. Louis and James Travira, Bay Five supervisor. The work started Thursday. # Hawkettes suffer defeat in Holiday Classic Finals

The Hancock North Central Hawkettes were defeated Friday night by a single point by New Hope after gaining a berth in the Gulf Coast Jaycee Holiday Classic consolation contest in the Mississippi Coliseum.

The HNC ladies, defeated by Buckeye, La., in their opening game Wednesday at Pass Christian, went on to defeat the Lady Pirates in quarter-finals to reach the consolation finals.

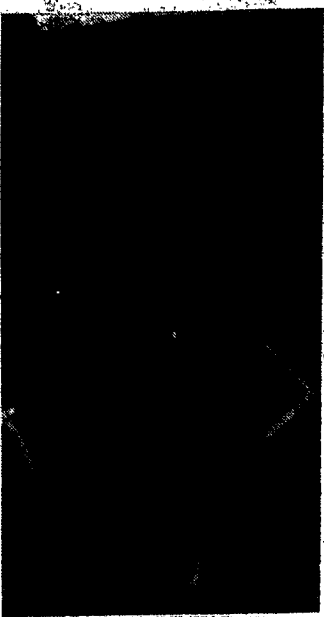

New Hope's girls squeaked by the Hawkettes, 31-30 in the consolation game.

High scorer for the HNC squad was Joye Lee with 11 points.

Redemptorist of Baton Rouge, La., swept the field in the boys' division, winning five straight games to claim the overall title.

The Redemptorist team, undefeated in 56 straight games, upended Pascagoula 57-45 to take the title in the first annual Gulf Coast Classic.

SHAYNON LADNER

ALAN DEDEAUX

Hancock North Central, Bay High, and Pass Christian were eliminated from competition earlier in the court action.

Salmen, Slidell, La.,

defeated West Marion in the boys' consolation competition, 44-42.

Calloway, Jackson, Ms., defeated Bowling Green, Ky., to take third place in the contests.

Harrison Central's ladies squeezed by the George County girls to take the girls bracket championship, 41-40.

Shaynon Ladner led the Hawkettes in overall scoring.

THERESA CANNON

Bay High, Pass Christian, and Hancock North Central boys' teams were all eliminated from play in the Gulf Coast Jaycee Holiday Classic Basketball tournament, leaving no local teams in the 32-team competition.

The Tigers, hosting six games in their Tigerdome, dropped their opening game Wednesday to Oak Grove, Miss., 71-44.

The Pass Pirates also lost an opener against Bowling Green, Ky., 63-61.

The only local team to advance in the winning category was HNC, who defeated Barb, La., 65-53 in their opener Wednesday in the Tigerdome.

The Hawks advanced to the next bracket Wednesday night and downed the Bastrop, La., five, 77-65.

The Pirates and Tigers met in an elimination match to determine the consolation winner, Pass emerging the victors in a 71-41 rout.

THYRON WILLIAMS

Hancock North Central played Bowling Green, Ky., Thursday in the Harrison Central game and was eliminated from competition by a single point, 80-79.

Pass Christian was also eliminated from play after suffering a 53-45 loss to the Hattiesburg squad.

Alan Dedeaux was high overall scorer for HNC, turning in a 53 point total for the three games.

Barry Arcement scored 29 points in the HNC Bowling Green match, scoring a total of 44 points for the three games.

Dean Shaw turned in double figure scores for the Barbs and Bastrop games, along with Moses Hill and Steve Nunn.

Thyrone Williams was high scorer in the Tiger's match with Oak Grove, turning in a 13 point performance.

He was followed by Teddy Haynes with 11 points.

Carl Bowser led the Pass squad with scoring in their game against Bowling Green, followed by Virgil Swanier with 16, Howard with 12, and Charles Lawton also netting 12 points.

legislature, $16 million has been reserved for possible state employees and teacher's raises, and $5 million for Medicaid overfunding.

"This leaves us approximately $42 million to use for a possible tax cut," Compretta said.

"Last year there was a five percent sales tax cut on utilities. When our surplus is spread out across the state, it does not seem to amount to much," he continued.

"Everybody in the legislature has a bill to propose which will use tax money. The majority has to decide on how to use that money to best benefit the state," he added.

"Budget Director Francis Geoghegan and his budget experts project a recession in mid-year which could eat up our surplus," he warned. "We just have to wait and see."

Compretta has also co-authored a bill which could prevent senior citizens and other persons on fixed incomes from being overcharged for prescription drugs.

The bill proposes that pharmacists be allowed to use a generic drug if less expensive in lieu of brand names usually prescribed by a physician.

"This has been advocated by senior citizen groups and the American Association of Retired Persons," Compretta said.

"The big drug companies are against the bill, as they have been in prior years, but I believe we will reach a happy medium with this bill," he continued.

"There have been many pros and cons in prior discussion. We must sort through these and see if we may reduce cost without reducing quality of the drugs," he said.

"People with fixed incomes, such as senior citizens, need drugs each month. They are feeling the crunch," he added.

Another bill which the Hancock representative co-authored and plans to propose to the house is a bill to increase severance tax revenue to counties from oil and gas reserves.

Presently, the State Department of Education half of severance taxes from these properties, and Compretta claims this practice is "unfair and punishes counties which have oil and gas reserves."

"The proposed bill would provide 25 percent of the taxes to the education department and return 75 percent to the counties," Compretta explained.

A fourth bill which Compretta co-authored would forbid automobile insurance companies from raising premiums or cancelling policies on policy holders who have been involved in accidents which were not their fault.

"Some, not all, insurance companies raise premiums or cancel policies on customers who have been involved in automobile accidents and committed no moving violations," Compretta said.

Compretta said the economic outlook for 1979 in both the state and county is good.

He encourages people to stay in contact with him during the upcoming session and give their views on current issues.

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis handled arrangements.

A 1 p.m. Mass was celebrated Saturday in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis, followed by burial in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

Mrs. Albrest, a native and lifelong resident of Bay St. Louis, was a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

She is survived by two sons, Charles Albrest Jr. of Gretna, La., and Jesse Albrest of Kenner, La.; a sister, Mrs. Vivian Egloff Perkins of Bay St. Louis; and six grandchildren.

BRUCE MARTIN

The funeral for Bruce Martin was Friday at Riemann Funeral Home in Long Beach, followed by burial in the Allen Cemetery at Long Beach.

Mr. Martin, 49, retired general manager for Dibbs Chemical Company in Gulfport and a resident of 621 Nicholson Ave., Long Beach, died Wednesday, Dec. 27, 1978.

Born in Brooklyn, Miss., he had lived in Gulfport for five years prior to moving to Long Beach 18 years ago. He was a Baptist.

Wastewater..... Continued from page 1

"We don't have enough ammunition to go to our people with," explained Ward Four, Bay St. Louis Councilman Fred Wagner.

Wagner's comment followed the wastewater plan representatives' inability to answer a question concerning the contrast in cost of Hancock County having a regional treatment facility of its own, compared to Hancock County combining with the other two counties to form the wide-area wastewater management system.

Waveland Mayor John Longo Jr. speculated that if Hancock County had its own regional wastewater system the cost would be cheaper than combining with the other two counties.

The Gulf Coast Wastewater Management Plan will be allocated 75 percent of an estimated $100 million proposed to construct and maintain treatment facilities for the tri-county area.

But, doubt remains whether a separate county plan would be given the 75 percent of federal funds for construction and maintenance.

"Yes, a separate county plan would receive the 75 percent federal funding for a separate county plan," affirmed engineer Lewis, "if, and only if, we can solve the water quality problems on the Gulf Coast."

"The problem is," continued Lewis, "to clean up the water pollution along the entire Gulf Coast."

"If Hancock County creates its own treatment plan, for instance, and the other two counties combine to create their wastewater treatment facilities, thus solving the water quality problem—then I think the Hancock County plan could get the 75 percent in federal funds."

However, Lewis added he was informed by financial experts Peat Marwick and Mitchell Co. that Hancock County could not finance its 25 percent share for construction and maintenance of the treatment facilities.

Lewis also stressed the financial experts said the regional tri-county wastewater treatment plan is the least expensive method for cleaning up Gulf Coast waters.

Dana added, "Our staff has considered other alternatives of handling the wastewater by separate counties, and other groupings to determine which method is the least expensive; and the financial experts found the tri-county system is the cheapest."

Hancock officials at the meeting said they will need more information before a decision is reached on joining the Gulf Coast Wide Wastewater Treatment Plan.

Major questions still unanswered for Hancock officials are:

—What are the comparative costs of a Hancock system versus the proposed tri-county system?

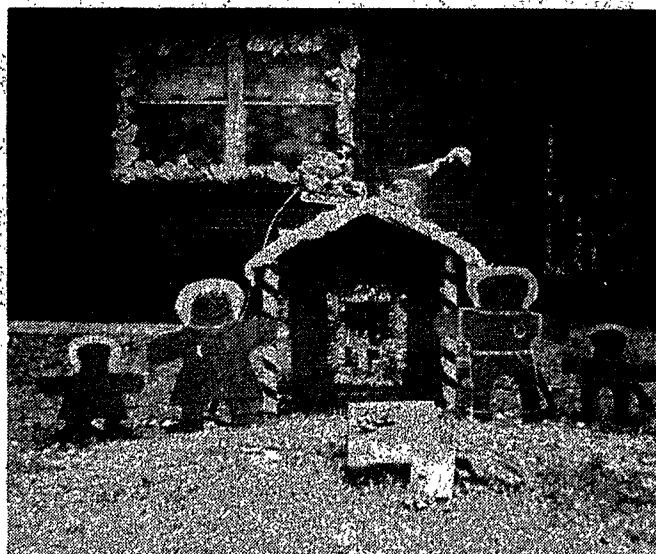

—What are the actual dollar figures Hancock residents will have to pay under the wastewater treatment plan.

Dana said the deadline for Hancock County to join the tri-county plan or submit a plan for cleaning up the water is due February 14, 1979, but an extension may be granted to June 1979.

In addition to Wagner and Longo, others at the meeting were Beat One Supervisor Bert Courrage, Beat Three Supervisor Oscar Peterson, Beat Four Supervisor Sam Bernier, Beat Five Supervisor James N. Trivette, Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, Bay St. Louis Ward One Councilman Peter Benvenuti, Bay St. Louis Ward Four Councilman Harry Farve, Waveland Ward One Alderman Barbara Rappold and Waveland Ward Two Councilman Jack Toomey.

A public meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m. Thursday at the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis to discuss the Plan.

NORDA groundbreaking ceremony to feature top Navy official

Dr. David E. Main, of Washington, D.C., assistant secretary of the Navy for research, engineering and systems, will be principal speaker at an 11 a.m. Wednesday groundbreaking ceremony conducted by Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity at NSTL in Hancock County.

The ceremonies will mark start of construction on a Satellite Imagery Laboratory for NORDA.

The new $400,000 laboratory will be occupied by the Remote Sensing Branch of the Oceanography Division of NORDA's Naval Oceanographic Laboratory.

"This Laboratory is the major organizational component of NORDA; the Remote Sensing Branch conducts research and development on how to acquire, interpret, display and apply oceanographic information remotely sensed by satellites and aircraft," Branch spokesman reported. The new wing will provide both a secure work area and room for NORDA's new and expanding program in this area, he added.

Remote sensing from aircraft and satellites is already routinely applied in such fields as geology, forestry, agriculture and weather forecasting. Satellites can provide relatively easy and inexpensive synoptic (near-real-time) views of the earth on a global scale.

Most satellites now in use, however, are not well-designed or instrumented to provide the highly detailed measurements of the ocean environment and the polar region required for research.

This has been recognized, and new satellite techniques and instrumentation are being developed and are starting to be applied to the oceans.

This new technology will very soon begin to produce a vast quantity of remotely sensed oceanographic data.

This data cannot be utilized effectively for Naval applications, however, until a capability is available to analyze, process, and present this specialized type of data.

The new Satellite Imagery Laboratory will represent the Navy's major capability to perform research and development in the field of satellite remote sensing.

The results will provide the input data required for the design of computerized models of the ocean environment that will eventually permit the forecasting of ocean conditions anywhere in the world whenever requested by the Fleet in a matter of hours.

A major tool for collecting and analyzing remotely-sensed data has already been installed at NORDA and will be housed in the new laboratory building in an expanded operation.

This is the Interactive Digital Satellite Image Processing System (IDSIPS). This computer system collects oceanographic data in digital form transmitted by satellites to various ground stations.

NORDA can receive computer-compatible tape recordings or actual read-out via telephone lines of the signals from such satellites as the GOES (geostationary orbiting environmental satellite) on a near real-time basis.

The digital data can then be analyzed or converted to images that can be enhanced with color and displayed on a television monitor or printed in hard-copy form in black and white.

Another unique feature of the new laboratory will be small laser experimental laboratory, designed to conduct experiments with lasers currently available to determine if they can be applied to making measurements beneath the surface of the ocean from an aircraft.

The goal is to probe the ocean subsurface down to 100 meters (about 300 feet), with particular emphasis on measuring sound velocity.

This section of the ocean is called the "mixed layer," since it is that layer of the ocean which is mixed by the winds, heated by day and cooled by night (depending on seasonal temperatures) and contains currents and varying temperatures that distort or change the transmission of sound, a problem in an-timar warfare.

NORDA's laboratory will also have a heliostat or motorized hatch in the roof that can be opened to let in the sun's rays or send a laser beam into the atmosphere for testing purposes.

A special electro-optical laboratory will also be included in the new building as a means of testing and calibrating special instruments designed to obtain "surface truth" or direct measurements of the ocean.

These measurements can then be compared to equivalent satellite measurements to establish correction factors to convert the satellite measurements into data which would be otherwise have been taken by direct measurements with ship-borne instruments.

The new building will be a 100 by 80-foot wing attached to an existing laboratory building, and will be the first of several projected facilities which will be constructed for NORDA.

A construction contract for $400,000 has been awarded on a low-bid basis to the J. O. Collins Company of Biloxi, with completion scheduled in six months.

The 8,000-square foot laboratory is the first step in NORDA's long-range building program that is expected eventually to add some 100,000 square feet to NORDA's facilities by the mid 1980's, nearly doubling NORDA's present space.

In addition to the new wing, a temporary building of about 4,500 square feet is planned adjacent to this new wing to provide laboratory offices in early 1979.

"The 'ground-breaking for the new Satellite Imagery Laboratory is significant," stated Captain Charles G. Darrell, NORDA's Commanding Officer, "in that it demonstrates that NORDA is a growing R&D laboratory destined to make a unique and major contribution in the Navy application of the most up-to-date oceanographic research."

Hancock Library to feature Eudora Welty photo exhibit

A special exhibition of photographs by Eudora Welty, native Jacksonian and Pulitzer Prize-winning author, will open at the Hancock County Library, Wednesday and will hang through Jan. 21 in the Crawford Room.

Miss Welty took the photographs in the early 1950's, at the beginning of her writing career, as she traveled throughout Mississippi as a publicity agent for the Works Progress Administration.

With Miss Welty's permission, Patti Carr Black, director of the State Historical Museum, Old Capitol, assembled the exhibit from over 1200 negatives on file in the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, the repository for Eudora Welty's papers and photographs.

Each photograph in the exhibit is accompanied by an appropriate text, selected by Ms. Black from Miss Welty's fiction and non-fiction works.

A collection of Welty photographs from the same period was published by Random House in 1971, as "One Time, One Place: Mississippi in the Depression: A Snapshot Album."

An exhibit of her photographs was held at the Museum of Modern Art in New York in 1973, but the thirty-five photographs in this exhibit have never before been published or exhibited. Her travels with the Works Progress Administration gave Miss Welty the chance to take hundreds of photographs, and in her words, "to see widely and at close hand and really for the first time the nature of the place I'd been born into."

The photographs were taken with a popular Kodak model, in Miss Welty's words, "one step more advanced than the Brownie."

The rolls of film were developed commercially, and Miss Welty printed the pictures herself.

The City-County Library, usually open Monday through Saturday, will be closed Mon. Jan. 1.

Admission is free and open to the public.

ANTIQUE GREETING CARDS FROM THE COLLECTION OF MR. AND MRS. EDWARD CARVER

OPTOMETRISTS ATTEND
Three people from Hancock County were among those attending the 22nd annual continuing education conference for optometrists at The University of Mississippi. The four-day program was sponsored by the Mississippi Optometric Association and coordinated by the Ole Miss Division of Continuing Education. Attending from Hancock County were optometric student Ronald C. Moxingo, Waveland, and optometrist Dr. Walter C. Russo and Dr. M.J. Wolfe Jr., Bay St. Louis.

while intoxicated, or speed excessively should have the duty of removing injured bodies from automobile crashes. They should have to visit those who have lost the use of their limbs or suffered brain damage because of a careless person behind the wheel. It would be a rude awakening," he warned.

The Commissioner continued, "Some people will say that the Department of Public Safety should respect the public more than to associate this blessed time of the year with highway death. It is difficult to paint a rosy picture when we must paint it with the blood of innocent people who have been slaughtered on our highways."

"The leading cause of accidents in Mississippi is failure to yield the right of way. This does not speak well of our motorists, especially during the month of December. The major contributing cause of accidents is faulty equipment. So if one takes the leading cause and the major contributing cause, it is obvious that a courteous attitude behind the wheel of an ill-equipped car is just as dangerous as having a bad attitude in a properly equipped car."

Finch said, "Some automobile owners feel that if their vehicle runs it doesn't matter if the tires are slick, the tail and headlights burned out, or if the braking system is bad - as long as it runs. Others feel if everything is in good working condition they should see just how many laws they can break and not get caught. We need to begin taking driving serious because death on our highways is serious."

The Commissioner said that, "Although more highway miles are traveled during daylight hours, the accident rate is 2.5 times greater at night. For this reason, we are offering the following nighttime driving tactics for motorists with the suggestion that they are clipped out of this newspaper and read by all the drivers in each household."

SUGGESTIONS FOR NIGHTTIME DRIVING

Always reduce speed at sundown and keep speed down until daylight.

- Turn headlights on at the beginning of sundown and keep them on until sunrise, or anytime during the day that visibility becomes poor.

- Do not use parking lights at all - ever - to drive. If you want to be seen, always use headlights.

- Avoid "overdriving" headlights, which is driving so fast one cannot stop within the distance one can see.

- Dim headlights when meeting or following other traffic.

- When meeting a vehicle with blinding lights, look to the right edge of the highway, away from the glare of the lights.

- If driving in fog or rain, use the low-beam headlights.

- Be extra watchful for pedestrians and bicyclists.

- Be sure all the lights on the vehicle are in good working order, and keep the headlights clean and properly aimed.

- When it first begins to rain, slow down, because "oil" and dust that has accumulated on the pavement becomes extremely slippery when mixed with water.

EVERYDAY DRIVING SUGGESTIONS FOR THOSE WHO CARE

- Be thoroughly rested before starting a long drive.

- Avoid driving when emotionally upset.

- Never drive more hours than your normal work day.

- Map your trip out well in advance.

- If possible, avoid driving during late afternoon hours or early dusk.

- Avoid heavy meals or alcoholic beverages.

- Prevent children from standing on seats or in front of the instrument panel.

- Install and use safety belts.

- Provide special seats with straps or belts for small children.

- Never leave children alone in an unattended vehicle.

- Keep doors locked, using an interlock with children.

- Keep your speed not only within the law but always reasonable and prudent - well chosen for the existing conditions.

- Help another driver who wishes to pass.

- Avoid stopping if arriving at the scene of an accident unless you can render aid.

- Avoid artificial stimulants to keep awake; stop and sleep.

- Drive as far to the right as possible if meeting a one-eyed car.

- Avoid overloading the car; distribute the weight evenly.

- If you do smoke while driving, train yourself to do it without taking your eyes off the road.

- Glance at your speedometer frequently; know at all times the exact speed you are traveling.

- Make sure you see and that you are seen.

- The inside rear-view mirror was designed for safer driving. It was not intended as an object from which to hang foxgloves, dice, baby shoes, or other souvenirs.

- Remember that at least 9 out of 10 accidents are caused by human error.

- Obey traffic rules and be prepared to adjust for driving errors of others.

- Yield the right-of-way to a police car, ambulance or fire truck flashing a red or blue light.

- A driver who is tired is dangerous.

- Always keep the windshield clean.

- Because of the threat of carbon monoxide poisoning, avoid sitting in an idling automobile for any length of time.

The staff of the Department of Public Safety, Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol, Mississippi Crime Laboratory and the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Training Academy extend to every Mississippian wishes for a safe and happy holiday season.

DRIVE CAREFULLY!!!

Teacher group outlines '79 legislative package

Mississippi Association of Educators reports it has several bills ready for introduction for the 1979 Legislative Session.

Included in the pre-filed bills are teacher pay raises averaging $1,500; a $500 per teacher fringe benefit allotment to be used for the fifth grade to 24 students in 1980; and making provisions for art, physical education and music teachers and guidance counselors.

"This one bill is our top priority," said MAE executive secretary, John E. Ashley.

"Last fall, our delegates mandated the program that we would work toward the 1979 Session. The background work was started in October," he added.

Currently the average daily attendance for the first four grades is at 24.

"By adding the fifth grade to this, we feel that teachers can better serve the needs of our school children," said Mr. Ashley.

Accreditation standards require art, music and PE teachers and guidance counselors but no provision is made for state funds to be allocated to help pay for these teachers.

Also a priority for MAE is a bill which would provide for professional dues deduction at the request of each teacher.

Reassessment of property and equalization of taxes and allowing teachers to buy into the Retirement Program are also priorities for this year.

Currently any teaching experience outside this state will not apply toward retirement.

MAE, the state's largest teacher organization, will support many education items including: uniform school laws, revenue sharing funds to be used for the purchase of EVT materials, equipment and air conditioning, adequate support for junior and senior colleges, air conditioning, early childhood education, a simple majority to pass a bond issue, and the right to increase millage from 25 to 30 without a referendum.

"We continue to work for the betterment of education and the teaching profession in Mississippi," said Ashley.

PVT. C.A. LANDRY
Pvt. Clarence A. Landry, son of Enrte D. Landry Sr., 308 Westrail Road, Pass Christian, recently completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations.

This qualifies the soldier as a light weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

Landry entered the Army in August 1978.

The private is a 1975 graduate of South Park High School in Beaumont, Texas.

News Brief

SS DISCUSSION
John Pate, director of the Jackson social security office, is Howard Lett's guest on Mississippi ETV's "Let's Look at It" at 7 p.m., Monday, January 8. Pate and Lett discuss social security benefits; the upcoming withholding increases, the original intent of social security and its solvency.

Storey named to All-State team

Richard Storey, tackle for Hancock North Central, is the only Hancock County gridiron star named to the All-State High School Football team by the Mississippi Sportswriters Association.

Storey was earlier named to the Gulf Coast Burger King All-Star team along with teammate Greg Ladner.

The six-foot-three 235-pound senior was cited for making 84 solo tackles and 72 assists during the 1978 football season.

He recently signed a grant-in-aid by Mississippi State University, becoming the first HNC graduate to sign with a Southeastern Conference school.

Storey was named as a defensive interior lineman on the all-state squad.

Storey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace of the Standard Community, played tackle and defensive end for four years for HNC.

PRC attains mid-season mark

Pearl River College's Wildcats finished the first half of their basketball season with a 7-6 overall record.

Earlier the Billy Holmes led team lost to Pensacola 73-67 and beat Jefferson Davis JC College from Alabama 74-62 in over time. Both games were played in Pensacola, Fla.

"The game we played against Pensacola, even though we lost, was our best effort of the two contests," Holmes said.

The Pensacola Classic contests were the first out-of-state regular season games played by the Wildcats in years.

"It was excellent experience for us," Holmes said, "we didn't do quite as well as I had hoped, but we were competitive."

The Cats head master said he planned to play more out-of-state colleges.

Leading scorers for the Cats at semester break are sophomore Tim Green of Petal and freshman Terrell Landry of New Iberia, La. Both are averaging 12.2 points per game. Landry is also the team's leading rebounder, bringing down 92 for a 7.1 per game average.

Eric Rogers, freshman forward from St. Francisville is the team's third best shooter with a 10.2 average. Mike Francis, another Louisiana standout from St. Martinville, is the team's second best rebounder with a 6.3 average. He is also scoring 8.6 points per game.

Big freshman Jimmy Richardson of Purvis is averaging 7.1 points per contest and 4.1 rebounds. Henry Cavalier, another freshman from St. Francisville is scoring 7 points per game and averaging 4.8 rebounds.

Carroll Gaddis, sophomore from Sumrall, missed six games this season due to sickness, however, he is now in the starting lineup, and is averaging 5.6 points per game.

Poplarville freshman Ronald Brown and Venice, La. freshman Troy Hall are each scoring five points per game.

Minimum wage hike effective Jan. 1

Approximately one million workers in the Southeast will be eligible for a pay raise on Jan. 1 when the federal minimum wage rises to $2.90 per hour.

Richard Robinette of Atlanta, assistant regional administrator for the Wage and Hour Division, U.S. Department of Labor, noted amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) in 1977 establishing uniform minimum wage rates for all covered workers - $2.65 an hour effective this past Jan. 1, increasing annually to $2.90, $3.10 and $3.35 an hour by Jan. 1, 1981.

The Wage and Hour Division, a part of the Labor Department's Employment Standards Administration, is responsible for administering and enforcing the FLSA (which sets minimum wage, overtime pay, child labor and equal pay standards).

The Atlanta region includes Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee. Under the 1977 FLSA amendments, the percentage of tip credit which can be applied toward the minimum wage for tipped employees will be reduced to 45 percent effective Jan. 1, 1979 and 40 percent effective Jan. 1, 1980.

Another change resulting from these amendments is the repeal of the partial overtime exemption for employees of hotels, motels and restaurants.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1979, these employees will be due overtime premium pay after 40 hours in the work week.

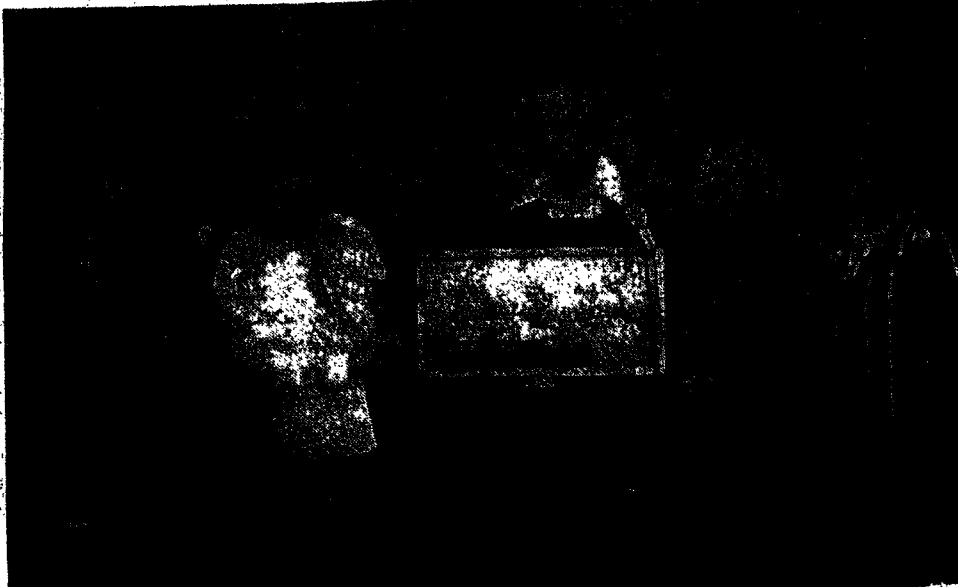

Maids and custodial employees of hotels and motels have been on the 40-hour week since May 1, 1977.

In the eight-state region during fiscal 1978, the Labor Department found that more than 160,243 workers protected by federal wage and hour laws were illegally underpaid by almost $25,068,313.

Violations of the minimum wage and overtime provisions of the FLSA accounted for the bulk of underpayments.

Wage and Hour Division offices are located throughout the region and are listed in most telephone directories under U.S. Government, Department of Labor, Employment Standards Administration.

Global wins $26.5 million contract at NASA Michoud

NASA has selected Global Associates of Oakland, Calif., to provide facility operating services at the Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans.

The contractor's proposed cost for the five year contract period is approximately $26.5 million.

Global Associates previously provided facility operating services to NASA at NSTL in Hancock County, and was fixed base operator of Stennis Field under contract from the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

Services provided under the contract will support NASA program activity and missions of other governmental agencies tenanted at the Michoud facility, plus refuse collection and telecommunications services at Slidell Computer Complex, Slidell, La.

Both Slidell and Michoud are managed by NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala.

Under the one-year cost-plus-award-fee contract, with four one-year priced options, the contractor will provide management, personnel and materials for plant engineering, maintenance, telecommunications, property and supply, and mail, transportation, medical and food services. Tenant agencies at Michoud include Department of Agriculture, Department of Defense and Department of Commerce.

The primary NASA program being conducted at Michoud is the manufacture and assembly of the external tank for the Space Shuttle, including those destined for service as test articles, on test flights and on operational missions.

Martin-Marietta Corp. is the prime contractor for the external tank.

Other firms submitting proposals for the contract include the incumbent contractor, Boeing Services International, Inc., Cocoa Beach, Fla.; Burns & Roe, Paramus, N.J.; and Mason and Hanger, Lexington, Ky.

Commercial boat licenses available at Pass Harbor

The Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission is currently selling 1979 shrimp, oyster, crab and fish licenses for sport and commercial fishermen.

Licenses will be available today and Friday at the commission office in Biloxi and at a small substation at the Pass Christian Small Craft Harbor.

Licenses are also available at the Pascagoula courthouse, in the tax collector's office and at the Harbor Shop, in the Gulfport Small Craft Harbor.

A commission spokesman said prices are the same as last year and are determined by the length of the boat. The licenses are valid beginning Jan. 1. All others expire Dec. 31.

Famous Dr. Ochsner on METV

Dr. Alton Ochsner, who is generally credited with discovering the link between lung cancer and smoking and who founded the renowned medical complex in New Orleans that bears his name, is the subject of a special documentary on Mississippi ETV.

"Alton Ochsner at Eighty" can be seen at 9:30 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 4, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

Military Mention

DANIEL PERROT
E.N.E.N. Daniel Perrot has returned to Little Creek, VA after a two week leave from the U.S. Navy. He is a crew member on the U.S.S. Shaker.

Daniel who attended Chalmerte High School, joined the Navy in 1976.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Perrot Sr. and the grandson of Mrs. Leonard Favre of Bay St. Louis.

VALORIE YOUNG
U.S. Air Force Academy Cadet Valerie J. Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Young of 325 Jacksonville Dr., Pearloring, will take part in the Rose Bowl Parade held in Pasadena, Calif.

The cadet is a member of the Academy Drum and Bugle Corps which has been chosen to be the lead unit in this year's parade.

Cadet Young is a 1977 graduate of Bay Senior High School.

LEE PALODE
Pvt. Lee M. Palode, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Palode, 330 Saucier Ave., Pass Christian, recently completed a wheel vehicle mechanic course at the U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the course, students were trained to perform maintenance and assist in the repair of automotive vehicles and associated equipment.

They became familiarized with the functioning of automotive wheel vehicle components, operating principles of internal combustion engines, fundamentals of fuel and electrical systems, and the use of organizational and test equipment.

Palode entered the Army in July, 1978.

The private is a 1977 graduate of Pass Christian High School.

SGT. E.W. MURRAY
Staff Sergeant Ernest W. Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Murray of 1002 Pawley Florence, N.C., has arrived for duty at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

Sergeant Murray, an otolaryngology surgical technician with a unit of the Air Training Command, previously served at Mather AFB, Calif.

The sergeant is a 1970 high school graduate. His wife, Theresa, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dedeaux of Pass Christian.

Produced on the occasion of the physician's 80th birthday, the program provides a view of his triumphs and tragedies from the perspective of an age few people attain and fewer still with their intellect, enthusiasm and wit fully intact.

A man of forcefulness and convictions, Ochsner has locked horns with opponents as redoubtable as Louisiana's "Kingfish," Huey Long; and Argentina's late dictator Juan Peron, who found himself one of the early targets of Ochsner's anti-smoking campaign.

Ochsner started the giant Ochsner Medical Institutions complex in New Orleans in 1941 with four fellow Tulane University Medical School professors on a small bank loan and despite the objections

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
WHEREAS, Samuel L. Blanchard, Sr. and Geraldine Blanchard, on April 25, 1977, executed and delivered to Webb M. Mize, Trustee, for Gulf National Bank, Beneficiary, a Deed of Trust, being recorded in Book 168, at Pages 45-46, of the Records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on Land in Hancock County, Mississippi; and

WHEREAS, on March 18, 1978, Samuel L. Blanchard, Sr. and Geraldine Blanchard, for value, executed and delivered a Supplemental Deed of Trust to said National Bank, Beneficiary, which is recorded in the Records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on Land in Hancock County, Mississippi, which Supplemental Deed of Trust was filed to give notice under the "dragnet" clause of the Deed of Trust being foreclosed on, which provides as follows, to-wit:

"FIRST: In addition to, and the aforesaid indebtedness and all extensions or renewals of the same or any part thereof, this instrument is intended to secure and does secure any and all debts, obligations, or liabilities, direct or contingent, of any Grantor herein, whether now existing or hereafter arising at any time before actual cancellation of this instrument on the public records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust, and whether the same be evidenced by note, open account, overdraft, assignment, endorsement, guaranty, pledge or otherwise."

WHEREAS, default was made in the payment of the premium for insurance on the improvements on the property described hereinafter and such insurance premium has been paid by Gulf National Bank and has been charged to the indebtedness secured by the Deed of Trust first mentioned above;

AND WHEREAS, the said Samuel L. Blanchard, Sr. and Geraldine Blanchard have failed to pay such insurance premium (for demands and have) therefore, caused the Deed of Trust to become in default; and

WHEREAS, default has been made in the payment of the indebtedness referred to in Deed of Trust first described herein and in the Supplement thereto; and

WHEREAS, the said Deed of Trust, and Supplement thereto, provide that, in the event default is made in the payment of the secured indebtedness, an additional amount of fifteen percent (15 percent) shall be added thereto as attorneys' fees, and default has been made in the payment of the said indebtedness and Gulf National Bank has exercised the option provided in the notes evidencing the said indebtedness secured by Deed of Trust, and Supplement thereto, described herein, declaring the whole of the unpaid principal balance immediately due and payable as well as the attorneys' fees; and

WHEREAS, the said Deed of Trust provides that, in the event of default, the Trustee shall, upon the request or demand of the Beneficiary, sell said property as is provided in the said Deed of Trust; and

WHEREAS, there are Federal Tax Liens against the said Samuel L. Blanchard Sr. and Geraldine Blanchard, and Notice of this Foreclosure has been given to the Internal Revenue Service, as provided by law;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Webb M. Mize, Trustee, do hereby give notice that I will, on January 12, 1979, during legal hours, at the front door of the Hancock County Court House in the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, offer for sale and sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder, for cash, the following described property, which is described in said Deed of Trust, said property being located in Hancock County, Mississippi, and more fully described as follows, to-wit:

Consumer information available at LibraryBy JOE PILET Friends of The Library

You owe it to yourself to scan the contents of the winter catalog of the Consumer Information Center which has been placed on the check out counter of the City-County Public Library.

Listed in this 16 page pamphlet are more than two hundred selected Federal consumer publications, many of them free for the asking and others at a nominal cost; on such subjects as automobiles, consumer protection, child care, health, food and nutrition, gardening, housing, energy conservation and employment.

Thinking of buying a new car? You may avail yourself (free) of pamphlet 504G. It gives you details on how to compare prices, dealer service and warranties and how to deal with problems that may arise.

Wondering about "No Fault" Automobile Insurance? There's a free publication to help you on that, too. Defines how it works, what states have it - and why we need it.

Have you children in your home? All sorts of helps are available under such listings as An Adolescent in Your Home, Helping Children Make Career Plans, Your Child from One to Six, just to mention a few.

There is an excellent free publication designed to help persons in choosing a vocational school, and one listing resources for loans, scholarships, and grants for adult education.

There's help for the homemaker, too, with pamphlets on food safety (tips on preventing food poisoning), seasoning with herbs and spices and one called Test Your Cooking IQ.

Trying to diet? A valuable booklet, Low Calorie Protein Diet explains FDA labeling requirements and answers safety questions about weight loss.

And there are books covering general health, the hassles of being a teenage parent, acne - its causes and how to treat it.

Advice for do-it-yourself home owners on how to paint, remove rust and tarnish from metals, do simple home repairs, etc. is available.

Did you know there is available a 12 page booklet giving information on where to write for U.S. birth and death records?

A 38 page pamphlet covering the law and retirement explaining why and how to see a lawyer when planning for retirement, making a will, designating power of attorney, setting up a
